WIRELESS LIGHT MANAGEMENT

Deliver Light When You Need It and Energy Savings When You Don't

LIGHT SENSOR

Wireless Occupancy Sensors are placed in the ceiling above workstations, cabins, meeting rooms and other office areas. These sensors detect human presence and transmit this data to the wireless controllers, which then switch the lights on or off accordingly.

LIGHTING CONTROLLERS

Lighting controllers offer on/off sequenced control of two separate lighting banks based on user determined light intensity levels.

GATEWAYS

Gateways are placed across the floor to collate data from occupancy and ambient sensors from all zones and transmit it to a central server.

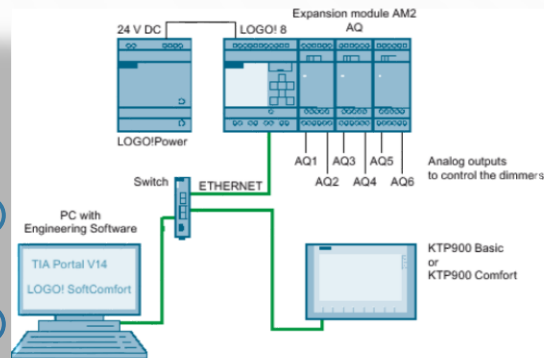

WIRELESS LIGHT MANAGEMENT

A good lighting design includes a good controls design. Lighting controls play a critical role in lighting systems, enabling users manually or automatically to:

- turn the lights ON and OFF using a switch; and/or
- adjust light output up and down using a dimmer.

LIGHT SENSOR

The new presence detectors capture data on CO₂, temperature, humidity and brightness and thus control not only the illumination systems but also ventilation and heating systems. This creates optimal ambient conditions in the space – for maximum comfort and the highest energy-efficiency.

LIGHTING CONTROLLERS

The system supports energy-saving applications such as daylight harvesting, occupancy control, task tuning, scheduling, blind/shade control, and ballast-level control.

SYSTEM ACCESSORIES

System can be controlled from phone, tablet or PC.
